Office Memorandum • UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT

TO : Chief, Intelligence School

DATE: 27 September 1961

FROM : Chief, Orientation Faculty

SUBJECT: Weekly Activities Report #34, 20 - 26 September 1961

1. Intelligence Review

Intelligence Review #3 is scheduled to begin 2 October with an anticipated enrollment of approximately 35 students. Staff members this week are making personal contacts with several speakers, primarily those who have not lectured before, to explain the purposes of the course and to assist them in any other way possible. Although the IR is designed for members of the DD/I offices, representatives from the DD/P and DD/S offices have been encouraged to enroll both for the knowledge they will gain and the information that they can contribute. At present, six students have registered from these two directorates.

2. Exhibit

B Because of the Veterans' Day holiday, the next Intelligence Products Exhibit will be held on Wednesday, 8 November. In addition to our regular USIB visitors a contingent of 50-75 officers and civilians from the Army Map Service will be attending, as a result of a request made by OCR Liaison Staff.

3. Mid-Career Planning

a. [REDACTED] this week attended two lectures included in the "National Policy Formulation" phase of the Industrial College Course to gather ideas and evaluate possible speakers for the Mid-Career program. The first lecture, given by Prof. Paul Y. Hammond of Yale University was a rather elementary and pedantic presentation of the conflict between the Executive and Legislative branches in the formulation of national security policy. The second, by William Bundy, Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense for International Security Affairs, was an excellent, imaginative talk on the changing role of the Department of Defense in high-level policy planning. He outlined the respective roles of Defense, State, JCS, and CIA in current policy planning, and also discussed the rather different, but nevertheless, significant role which the NSC is playing in the present administration.
